RE: Conversation with John Brown Concerning Permitting of the Windfall Mine, S/037/010, San Juan County, Utah

Date of Conversation: May 27, 1992
Time of Conversation: 2:00 p.m.

On May 27, 1992, I spoke to Mr. John Brown of Moab regarding an unpermitted mining activity. Mr. Brown related to me that he operated the Windfall (renamed Maybe), after Atlas had reclaimed the site in 1988.

After asking Mr. Brown why he had not filed a notice on the site with the Division or the BLM, I mentioned that I would contact Ted McDougal of the San Juan Resource Area concerning the notice. He indicated that he had in fact notified the BLM prior to reopening the mine and had submitted a notice. Upon speaking with Mr. McDougal, on June 6, 1992, I was informed that no notice had been filed.
